

2019 Old Mutual Staff Volunteerism Awards

Category 6 – CEO’s Volunteerism Award

This Award recognises the outstanding volunteer who ‘sets the bar of best practice in volunteering’. Not only do they display exceptional passion and commitment, but they use their unique skills for the betterment of the organisation (skills transfer). This creates a legacy which reaches beyond the life of an individual and has a wide scope of influence/impact into the future.

Ultimately this results in positive social benefits and strong ties between the broader community and Old Mutual.

Rory Shea		Private Wealth Management, Century City, Western Cape
	 Prize Money R30 000	Rory volunteers his time at Scripture Union as Deputy Chairperson of the National Executive (Natex), the highest decision making body of Scripture Union (SA). He is also the chair of the National Finance Committee (Natfin) and ultimately takes responsibility for signing off the charities financial statements. He is also a director of Scripture Union’s Section 18A organisation, Sakh’ulutsha, which runs a variety of life skills initiatives across the country. Rory is passionate about youth as they are the future of the country. By giving children alternatives to gangs it enables them to create positive futures for themselves and create a better future for their communities. “When I was a student my own life was impacted positively by the organisation and they helped me gain fresh perspective and to direct me in my own life”, says Rory. Rory also volunteers at Metro Kids Africa. The NPO helps children create a better future through their sidewalk after school programme, school assemblies, raising and training junior leaders, compassionate care, leadership camps, and child sponsor programmes – impacting about 6000 children a week across a number of townships across Cape Town.
